HEADS OF BIG RAILROADS TO KEEP UP WORK

Pledge Hoover No Curtailment of Construction Work

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Heads of practically all important eastern railroads gave personal pledges to President Hoover today that they would go ahead with their full construction and expansion programs without regard to stock market conditions.

This was the first major development in President Hoover's effort to stimulate confidence in the immediate business outlook. Railroads are among the heaviest buyers of steel and their pledges to go ahead with their orders insures work for steel mills, shops and thousands of employees.

Meantime, the Federal Reserve Board was in session with its Advisory Council of bankers from all parts of the country who will confer with President Hoover this afternoon in the second of the series of heart-to-heart talks with business groups which Mr. Hoover has scheduled.

The decision of the eastern railroad executives will be placed before the general meeting of all rail heads at Chicago Friday. Though the action at Chicago cannot be forecast, it was anticipated here that the lead of the eastern roads would be followed.

The following statement was prepared jointly by those participating in the conference:

Rail Heads' Statement

"The railway presidents were unanimous in their determination to cooperate in the maintenance of employment and business progress. It was stated that the railways represented would proceed with full program of construction and betterment without any reference to recent stock exchange fluctuations; that they would canvass the situation as to further possibilities of expansion, and that among these particular railways it appeared that the total volume of such construction work already indicated an increase during the next six months over the similar period of last year. It was agreed that the whole question should be taken up at the meeting of the railway executives convening in Chicago next Friday with a view to securing cooperation of all the railways in the United States in such program.

At that time steps will be taken to canvass the railways to determine the exact amount of construction and betterment which can be undertaken over the forthcoming year and during the next months.

"The railway executives felt that it was desirable that similar conferences should be called in other industrial groups and that similar measures of coordination should be developed."

One of the most hopeful aspects of the situation is the easy money that prevails contrary to all previous stock market slumps. So long as business can borrow money at reasonable rates the administration feels confident of steady industrial activity.

Money Is Easy

The Federal Reserve System, it was revealed today, had loaned to member banks an aggregate of $35,914,000,000 on investments for the three months ending with September. This was an increase of $203,000,000 over the loans of the previous quarter indicating that as cash was needed it was poured in by the Federal Reserve system. Total loans to reserve bank members increased $306,000,000 during the quarter ending in September. For the year they were up $1,840,000,000.

Meantime Treasury experts are working on recommendations to expand the government's building program by suggesting that Congress authorize an additional $175,000,000 for construction of postoffices, customs buildings, and other government offices all over the country.

Railroads Backbone

President Hoover believes the railroads, among the heaviest buyers of steel, can provide the backbone of his business stimulation program by carrying through the vast orders contemplated for freight and passenger cars, locomotives, rails, electrification equipment and other materials.

Ernest I. Lewis, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was called into the railroad executives' conference today.

This led to the belief that efforts to push the general railroad construction program which has been in contemplation for years, would be pushed. Railroad executives say they are hesitant to go into large expansion programs until the Interstate Commission has acted.

"SANTA CLAUS" BANK ROBBER SHOT DEPUTY SHERIFF IN ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL: VICTIM BADLY HURT

Eastland, Tex., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A Deputy Sheriff was near death today and Marshall Ratliff, sentenced to death for a sanguinary bank robbery which he led in the full regalia of a Santa Claus, was in a jail hospital ward as the result of an attempt of the condemned man to shoot his way out of the county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones was critically wounded by Ratliff's shots and the prisoner was severely beaten in hand-to-hand struggle on a narrow flight of stairs in the jail. Public feeling ran high against Ratliff as Jones fought for his life. A large crowd congregated outside the jail, but dispersed without demonstration.

Ratliff, whose use of a Santa Claus costume as a disguise in the Christmas time robbery of a Cisco, Tex., bank, in 1927 made it one of the most spectacular in Texas history, has been sentenced to death but was returned here recently from the state penitentiary for a sanity hearing.

Englewood, N. J., Nov. 19.—(AP)—X-ray plates of the shoulder which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh dislocated in an airplane mishap at Mexico City last winter were being prepared today.

Rumors that Col. Lindbergh had suffered serious injury in an airplane accident were given wide circulation yesterday when it was learned he had visited the Englewood hospital Sunday to have the pictures made.

Attendants at the hospital said he told them he had been troubled recently with sharp pains in his right shoulder and on the advice of his physician had decided to have it X-rayed.

A nurse in the office of Dr. Walter Phillips of Englewood said that the doctor had treated Colonel Lindbergh Sunday for a "slight dislocation of the shoulder." She said her understanding was the injury had been suffered "at home."

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh left the home of the latter's parents here yesterday afternoon and registered at a hotel in New York. The Colonel showed no evidence of any injury.

Colonel Lindbergh, dislocated his shoulder last February 27 at Vaalbuena Flying Field, Mexico City, when he landed on one wheel a plane in which he and his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, were flying. The plane turned over in landing. Miss Morrow, now Mrs. Lindbergh, escaped with a shaking up.

Colonel Lindbergh carried his right arm in a sling for several days. He and Miss Morrow went up in a plane the day after the accident.

LIFE SAVINGS OF BLIND MAN TAKEN BY TRIO

Brutal Outrage Sets Officers On Wide Search Today

Christopher, Ill., Nov. 19.—(UP)—A trio of bandits was sought by authorities today after they brutally beat Tony Polish, former coal miner, now blind, and his wife, and escaped with $3,500, the life savings of the couple.

Polish was in a serious condition as a result of the beating administered with the butts of revolvers by the robbers, while his wife sustained lesser wounds.

The former coal miner became blind soon after leaving the mines. He had saved the money to care for himself and wife during their remaining days.

According to Polish, the trio entered the house and went to a room where a young son was sleeping. The child awakened and screamed. Polish and his wife rushed into the room and were beaten with the revolvers and fists of the bandits.

While two of the bandits were beating the couple, the other one ransacked the house, obtaining the money and overturning furniture. Authorities here and in Benton, nearby, said an extensive search would be made, terming the affair as "one of the most outrageous ever to occur in southern Illinois."

Dry Agent's Senses Attacked In Court

Peoria, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Whether or not a federal prohibition agent's nose and mouth are qualified to determine illegal amounts of alcohol in beverages, was a problem confronting Federal Judge Louis Fitzhenry today.

John Dougherty, attorney for David Kienbusch, said the search warrant was faulty in that it did not qualify the prohibition agent as able to determine alcoholic content of liquors by his senses.

The annual rainfall in the United States has been estimated at 152 trillion cubic feet.

Shakespeare's income toward the end of his life was equal to $25,000 a year in modern money.

CONGRESSMAN IS INDICTED TODAY ON BOOZE CHARGE

Illinois Representative and Secretary Are Named

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Representative Edward E. Denison, of Marion, Illinois, and John Layne, described as his secretary, were indicted today by a federal grand jury on a charge of possession of liquor.

The indictment was the result of the finding by prohibition agents of a leaking suit case at Union Station. Although it was found last January, a report was not made to District Attorney Rover until November 8.

The agents' report said the suit case bore a tag addressed to Layne, in care of Denison. The address was Room 441, House Office Building.

Shipping tags, the report said, also showed a trunk had been sent from New York and had been delivered. The agents further reported they had gone to the office and found Denison and the trunk and quoted Denison as saying he did not have the keys.

Later the report continued, they opened it and found whisky and gin.

Is Ardent Dry.

The indictment charges only whiskey to have been found. Denison has represented the Twenty-Fifth Illinois District in the House for several terms. He is a dry and has consistently voted for prohibition legislation, including the Jones law to increase penalties for violations.

He is now at his home in Marion, Illinois. Denison was called by telephone by his secretary, Miss Lucile Lee. After she had explained the situation, an Associated Press staff reporter asked the Illinois member if he desired to make a statement. He replied:

"I am surprised that an indictment has been returned. When the prohibition agents came to my office and inquired about a trunk I permitted them to inspect it. I found that the trunk was not mine; that it belonged to some one else and that the express company had made a mistake in directing a trunk to me that I did not own. I explained it fully to the agents and I am very much surprised that an indictment has been returned."

Shortly afterward, it was announced that the ceremonies would take (Continued on Page 7.)

Cities Asked Power From Naval Vessel

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A request by the cities of Seattle and Tacoma for use of the aircraft carrier Lexington as an emergency power plant to alleviate a shortage of electricity has been refused by the Navy.

The Navy said many considerations made it impractical for it to grant the unusual request that the powerful generators of the ship be used for this purpose.

The Lexington, one of the largest war vessels afloat, has generators capable of producing 212,000 horsepower which could be linked to the Tacoma power lines for distribution in the two cities.

Officials said they expected the ship would be ordered to sea today or tomorrow. They did not detail their objections to such use of the craft.

The indictment was returned after more than four days of deliberation.

Official and diplomatic Washington joined in unstinted tribute to the fallen Cabinet officer, praising him as an able public servant of high ideals and mourning his loss as a loyal and much-loved friend.

Preparations were made for a state funeral tomorrow in the East Room of the White House, attended by President Hoover, members of the Cabinet and other high public officials, and for the transportation of the body to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Secretary's Good's birthplace, for interment there.

Week-long Struggle.

Death came last night at end of a week-long struggle against general blood-poisoning, which set in after he had undergone a dangerous emergency operation for gangrenous appendicitis. Throughout the week, the best medical science could offer fought valiantly for his life, aided by a vitality amazing to his physicians, which served to keep him alive long after all hope of recovery had been abandoned.

"I have never lost a fight in my life and I am not going to lose this one," Mr. Good said to a physician in his last period of consciousness. The encroachments of the poison, were, however, more than his overtaxed body could bear and he died at 8:37 P. M. while Mrs. Good stood beside his bed.

Mrs. Hoover Helps.

Shortly afterward, it was announced that the ceremonies would take (Continued on Page 7.)

ORGANIZE AERIAL EXPEDITION TO SEARCH FOR HEROIC FLIER, LOST GIVING AID TO ICE-BOUND VESSEL

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Preparations for an aerial expedition to go to the aid of Carl Ben Eielson, noted Arctic aviator whose wrecked plane was reported seen on the ice-bound coast of Siberia nine days ago, were being made at Teller, Alaska, today by his companion flier, Frank Dorbrandt.

Word that the wreckage Eielson's plane had been sighted 60 miles from ice-bound fur trading ship Nanuk, whose passengers and valuable cargo Eielson and Dorbrandt had been removing to Alaska by air, reached here yesterday but there was no information as to the fate of the explorer himself.

Since the news of the wreck came by radio from the Nanuk, it was presumed that natives traveling along the coast with dog teams had sighted Eielson's plane and had brought word of it to the ship. A mechanic named Borland was with Eielson when the explorer last was heard from directly.

Conditions for rescue work were reported to be adverse, with a blizzard raging at Teller.

Bandit Took Girl's Shoes But Failed To Get Hidden Bank Roll

Miss Haan gave him her purse. There was only fifty cents in it.

"Not so fast, young lady," said the wise guy. "I'm an old hand at this racket. Take off your shoes."

It was cold and raining. Miss Haan took off her shoes. The fellow shoved them in his pocket and drove away.

When Miss Haan got home she still had her bank roll. It wasn't in her shoes at all.

SEVERE EARTH TREMORS ALONG ATLANTIC COAST

No Loss Of Life Or Serious Damage Is Reported Today

Boston, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Severe earth tremors shook the Atlantic coastline northward from Long Island Sound to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland yesterday on the 174th anniversary of the heaviest earthquake ever recorded in the New England area. No loss of life or serious damage was reported.

The Fundian Fault, which runs southwestward from the Bay of Fundy off Cape Ann under the Atlantic ocean, was believed by Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard geologist, to have been the source of the disturbance.

The shocks began at approximately 3:35 P. M., became severe in two minutes, and continued to be reported on the Harvard seismograph for an hour. Shaking buildings, rattling dishes, and pictures, alarming doors and swinging light fixtures were noted in scores of communities in the six New England states, the maritime provinces of Canada and Newfoundland. In upper New York state and New York City itself there were very slight manifestations.

Employees 400 feet above the ground in the custom house tower in Boston felt the structure sway and mild alarm was evidenced by persons working in the state house and business buildings in the city. The highest tide of the year, possibly influenced by the earthquake, was recorded by coastal cities.

Curb Review

New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The curb market displayed firm resistance to further selling pressure in the early trading today, which caused a moderate revival of speculative enthusiasm and prompted a wave of buying carrying the list substantially higher before the close. Trading remained in moderate volume, with the ticker keeping close to the market. Traders regarded drying up of selling during yesterday's decline as a particularly healthy sign. Electric Bond & Share, which Electric Investors is now merged, was well supported after a sag at the opening, and rose a few points, getting up close to 50. Cities Service was traded in fairly large volume, sagging to a point to 29, then rallying. Utilities generally gave a good account of themselves. Such issues as American Superpower, American Gas Middle West new, and United Light & Power A showing gains of a point or more toward the close. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore sold moderately higher on announcement of the increased dividend, but soon encountered profit taking. Associated Gas A was a soft spot, slipping back a few points.

Wall Street

By ELMER WALZER
United Press Financial Editor
New York, Nov. 19.—(UP)—United States Steel furnished about the only diversion to tape watchers today as the stock market settled down to a narrow range in lethargic trading. Business was so light that tickers were able to keep abreast of the trading nearly all of the three-hour session. Even the odd-lot quotations usually held to the end of the day were carried. Steel met a small amount of pressure in the early trading that forced it down to 160. From that point, where resistance was like a stone wall, it rose steadily, ending up in a flourish of strength that brought cheers from the patrons in the brokerage offices. Traders paid more attention to news tickers where bulletins were being flashed of the proceedings of the Hoover conference at Washington. It was learned railroad executives who attended the meeting assured the President there would be no curtailment of railroad budgets for improvements, extensions and equipment purposes. That was heartening to the business world in general and the stock market in particular. Another favorable factor was continuance of easy

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Monday evening service.
Considering the inclemency of the weather the service was well attended. A rousing song service led by the pastor, O. D. Shaffer, Rev. Lobaugh of Sterling offered prayer. Rev. Beuscher spoke on the subject: "Can Prayer Help?"

He had for his text Luke 6:12: "And it came to pass in those days that he went out into a mountain to pray and continued all night in prayer to God."

Jesus began and closed his great career praying. We find Him praying all through His public ministry. Palestine was full of His haunts of prayer. Judas knew where His prayer haunts near Jerusalem was. He knew where and when he could best betray Him into the hands of His foes.

Jesus was a busy man—Multitudes from all parts of the land crowded around Him to be taught, to be blessed, to be healed. He never was to busy to pray. The busier He was the more He prayed and the longer He made His seasons of prayer.

Are we to busy to pray? We might as well say to busy to live. To pray is to live; not to pray is not to live it is simply to exist. Prayer in a man's life means wisdom, power and success.

God compels no one to accept His blessings. Whatever He does for man He does with man's consent. God does not give as he wishes to give if man keeps his hands and heart closed. The connecting channel between the heart of God and our lost world—a holy consecrated life. The prayer from such a life is God's medium to save the world.

God is calling us anew to prayer. He is bidding us to make prayer the working force of our lives. Yes, prayer does things—More prayer is the crying need of the day.

Rev. Beuscher will speak tonight on the subject: "Laborers With God." The public is extended a hearty welcome to attend the services.

Stock Crash Cause Of Woman's Suicide

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 19.—(UP)—The death of Mrs. Alice Ruth was pronounced by police today as a suicide prompted by despondency over losses in the stock market crash. With her in death Mrs. Ruth took her two children, George 7, and Alice Bertie, 5.

She was believed the first woman to take her own life as a result of the recent market collapse.
The bodies were found yesterday in her automobile in the locked garage at her home. She had apparently left the motor running and awaited death after closing all doors and windows.

Mrs. Ruth, 35, was Vice President of the Iowa Business & Professional Women's club and an insurance agent. Her husband, Capt. Bert Ruth, an architect and war veteran, was killed some time ago in an automobile accident.

Convict Mail Robber Returns Part of Loot

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The morning papers said today that James J. Murray, former west side politician now serving a 25-year sentence in Atlanta federal penitentiary, had turned over to the government $385,000 in negotiable bonds, representing his share in the loot of the $2,000,000 Rundout mail robbery of June 12, 1924.

Return of the bonds was in connection with the filing at Washington of an application for commutation of sentence.

With Murray's share returned, there remains only about $14,000 unrecovered. That sum is believed to have been taken by William J. Fahy who was convicted with Murray and who is also serving a 25-year sentence.

Fahy, who was regarded as the ace of sleuths in the Postal Inspection Service, was called the master plotter of the robbery, although he took no actual part in it.

Wildcat Strike Has Closed Old Ben Mine

Benton, Ill., Nov. 19.—(UP)—Because of a reduction in miners' pay the mine No. 14, property of the Old Ben Coal Corporation, was idle today, a "wildcat" strike having been called.

It was said that feeling among the miners had been running high for sometime and that it was brought to a head Monday when the wage cut was announced.

Agitation first was aroused when operators announced they had decided to work men on the bottom half time and to reduce the wages of those laboring on the surface.

Although 800 men are on the mine's payroll, a schedule was worked out whereby 400 of the men worked each week, thereby allowing the employment of more miners.

Operators were to attempt to effect a settlement today and authorities said they expected no demonstrations.

Doheny Buys Fall's Tres Ritos Ranch

Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 19.—(AP)—The far-flung lands of the Tres Ritos ranch, one of the pride of Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, today were the property of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate.

An action described as an untangling of the affairs of the Tres Ritos Land Company resulted in Doheny's acquisition of the ranch at a Special Master's sale yesterday.

Representatives of Doheny paid $132,461.81 for the Tres Ritos. Under an order of the Third District court, following a mortgage foreclosure action, the sale was made to satisfy a note given to the oil man on December 20, 1928, for $124,000 at 6 per cent interest. The note covered a personal mortgage held by Doheny.

Love Tangle Problem Royal Couple
By RALPH HEINZEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Paris, Nov. 19.—(UP)—The Chancelleries of Paris are buzzing with the gossip that Boris, 35-year-old Tsar of the Bulgars, and Giovanna, 22-year-old Princess of Italy, may defy their elders and Foreign Ministers and allow their love romance to ripen into marriage.

Boris is said to have declared that if he cannot marry Giovanna he does not want to marry at all. That is a real ultimatum, for Bulgaria wants her youthful ruler to marry and provide, as soon as possible, for his succession.
Giovanna is said to have stamped her foot during family councils and to have insisted that church or no church, she is going to marry Boris. The whole trouble is that under Bulgarian law, Boris must be an Orthodox Catholic, and his children, especially his first male heir, must be Orthodox.
This marriage was in the making through diplomatic channels for a long time before the couple actually met. When they did meet, it was a case of love at first sight. But the diplomatic channels became clogged and now, when the royal pair are willing, it seems there are state and church reasons why they cannot marry.
The Chancelleries understand that the Vatican intervened, and insists that youthful Giovanna must not agree to bearing children who will be educated under the Bulgarian Orthodox Pope. A neighboring country also used its influence in western Europe to prevent the marriage fearing the coalition of hearts might be

Waistlines continue their journey upwards in the last-minute versions of style put out as mid-season collections by all the important dress houses. Many women waited to see these collections before ordering their winter clothes hoping for some amelioration of the long skirt-high waist dictum. The WOMAN'S DAY

A happy home, according to the old standard, was one where peace and happiness reigned, where the husband and wife were one in thought and deed, and the children obeyed their parents, and company could come in any time and not have to dodge plates.

There are two slants on this kind of happy home in John Erskine's new book, "Sincerity," which I cannot resist quoting.

"If a woman feels that some of her capacities for growth are unexercised, she will resent it, even if it is her husband's love or her love for him which keeps her life sheltered and tranquil. After all, we are in this world to grow. Who has the right to say that any stage in our growth is perfect and complete?"

The husband, therefore, who provides a comfortable home for a woman, keeps from her all his worries, sees to it that she knows less than nothing of the problems which beset people less fortunate than herself, conceals from her those tragedies which result from a too adventurous thirst for experience, is perhaps, not so kind a husband as he intends to be. Why should he know more of life than she? If the thought once takes hold of her that he wishes her to remain ignorant, the canker is at the heart of their happiness."

TIES THAT BIND MEN
And here is something on the husband's side:

"Men also suffer from the unintended limitations of what we call a happy home. Of few of them is it safe to say that their lives are complete. And this frustration, like that of women, is the ironic result, more often than not, of genuine affection. They learn what their wives like and loving their wives, they confine themselves to those habits, those ideas, those remarks."

"If they are tempted to live a little more widely, to explore at least, in thought, the mysteries of this rich span of days through which we pass too quickly, they usually keep the impulse hidden and brood in solitude over what ought to be of legitimate interest to their women as well as themselves."

"I never see a respectable, middle-aged man, head of his house and pillar of society, threatened by baldness and overweight, adorned by his grateful spouse, without asking myself, in order to reach this complacent conclusion what spirited thoughts did he refuse to think?"

I advise you not to check up on your own conduct, and see how little real sincerity you grant yourself or others.

Sincerity is a delightful ideal, but most difficult to practice. Besides completely upsetting you and deflating your ego, you will lose what friends and contacts you have already built up. Resist that impulse.

THE COST OF CONGESTION.

Secretary of Commerce Lamont estimates that traffic congestion in the United States costs the country something like $2,000,000,000 a year.

This sum, as he points out, is practically equal to our annual expenditures for the construction and maintenance of traffic facilities.

An economic loss of this size is something staggering to contemplate. It indicates that traffic congestion is rapidly approaching the point where it will simply throttle our social and economic growth. No problem that we face is much more serious than this one.

Yet, instead of solving it, we are pouring more automobiles on to our highways every year. What the situation may be in five more years—unless something much more drastic than anything yet attempted is done—is a matter for pessimists to think about.

THE RED MAN GETS WISE.

The noble red man, who once sold Manhattan Island for $24 worth of glass beads, seems to be getting wise to himself—or, perhaps, wise to his white brother.

A western museum curator recently toured the southwest to collect Indian pottery for his museum. He found, he says, that the Indian nowadays is cooking his meals in nice steel and aluminum pots and pans made by modern mills. He uses them because they are more serviceable and convenient than his own pots.

But he still makes pots, just the same. And why? To sell to the white tourist, who buys them without the slightest hesitation. With the money thus obtained the Indian outfits his own kitchen, and has enough change left to buy food and clothing as well.

The red man, it seems, is making up for that episode of the glass beads.

LEGAL NONSENSE.

Some of the quirks of our legal system are grotesque beyond words. In Elyria, O., one Harry Welch was robbed of $20. He had the robber arrested, as any man in his situation would—and then found himself tossed into jail.

The court had ordered him held as a material witness, and put him under $300 bond. Unable to furnish the bond, he was locked up.

For four months Welch remained in jail. Finally the trial was held, Welch's robber was convicted, and Welch was freed—with $123 which his stay in jail had earned him as witness fees.

A situation of that kind is simply idiotic. An innocent man is locked up like a criminal for four months simply because he is trying to get justice for a wrong that has been done him! The laws that permit such an outrageous bit of idiocy should be amended at once.

PASTEURIZATION SAVES LIVES.

Just how important to the public health is the process of pasteurizing milk, anyway?

Everybody's Health, a magazine issued by the Minnesota Public Health Association, gives the answer—an answer that is worth keeping in mind.

It quotes the health commissioner of New York City, Dr. Wynne, as saying that in the last decade the pasteurization of milk in New York City alone had saved the lives of 180,000 babies.

Dr. Wynne points out that the hot summer months used to take fearful toll of small children. Now that the milk supply is kept pure, however, the summer months actually have a lower mortality than the winter months.

Which, we submit, settles the pasteurization question.

Says a headline: "Deft Shunting of Freight Cars Is Modern Art." Guess the brakeman will have to be buying smocks.

An organization of rose growers is to convene this year in the Sahara desert. What a funny place for a convention!

A painting won a prize the other day and it was not discovered until after the award that it had been hanging upside down. The judges were turned around, too.

Horses can be trained like sheep to follow a leader. If you doubt it, just go to any race track.

Dr. Hale of the Carnegie Institution hopes that the complex problem of the curvature of space will be settled by celestial measurements through the new 200-inch reflecting telescope of the California Institute of Technology. That has something to do with bald-headedness, hasn't it, professor?

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Last night the audience was affected by the weather but quite a number braved the elements for the Joy Service. The testimonies were many and varied. The singing of the old time hymns was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Kindig led the meeting in his usual breezy style. The duet, piano and marimba, "The Mocking Bird" gave great pleasure to all. The vocal duet, a negro spiritual "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" was charmingly rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Kindig, while the Vibro-Harp solo charmed everybody.

Mr. Marshall spoke on "The Laughter of the Bible." Dealing first with the laugh of Scepticism he based his subject on Sarah's laugh when she heard, that, although she was well stricken in years, the Lord had chosen her to be the ancestress of our Lord Jesus Christ. Many men want to take the findings of science instead of "Thus saith the Lord" as the final court of appeals in the realm of religion. Science changes. A great scientist said recently in a meeting at Liverpool, England, "You can take every book on scientific matters more than ten years old and throw them on the rubbish heap." You can't say that about the Bible for "The word of the Lord endureth forever." Then there is the laugh of Spiritual Exultation. "When the Lord turned again the Captivity of Jacob then was our mouth filled with laughter," Paul says. "Sorrowful, yet always rejoicing," James Renwick, the young Scottish Covenanter, went from the scaffold in the Grassmarket, Edinburgh into the presence of His Lord with a laugh because he knew they were taking from him a life he could not keep and giving to him a life they could not take away. The laugh of Sorrowful Merriment is likened by Solomon to "The crackling of thorns under a pot." A great blame for a moment and then blackened embers with no life in them. The bad man's fun, the impure jest, the immoral story, the cruel mimicry, the merriment born of dissipation and the saturnalian gibberish are all as the laughter of the fool described and lead to death and despair.

The laugh of Divine Condemnation when "he that sitteth in the Heavens shall laugh." Man's puny schemes to detrone God must make high heaven to wonder. Napoleon wades through the blood of thousands to an imperial throne and finally dies an exile and a victim to cancer on a lonely isle in mid-Atlantic. A Hohenzollern strives to emulate and plunges the world into war treating his own men as "cannon fodder" and sacrificing millions to his own insatiable ambition, now an exile, in Holland. Rome, once the proud seat of imperial world power, is found today with her glories in the dust, her forum a cattle market, the great colosseum only ruined walls, her pantheon defaced—all because they failed to serve God.

Jesus said in the final hours of the grim tragedy of the cross, "Ye that weep now shall laugh" and this is the laugh of Eternal Triumph. All the difficulties of earth have vanished and life that is eternal has dawned. Welcome home at last into the place prepared for us by our Lord and Master.

This afternoon at 4:15 P. M. the Children's Meeting. This evening, Agoda Class meet at 6:30 P. M. for a scramble supper in the church parlors. Prayer meeting at 7:15 P. M. in the east room. Evening service at 7:30 P. M. The pastor will preach on "The Hand of Destiny." The Kindigs will bring the Gospel in song and music. Come along and join us.

A hearty welcome awaits you. Come.

International Loop Unable To Pick Head

New York, Nov. 19. (AP)—The International Baseball League will have to go along without a president for another three weeks at least, perhaps longer.

Meeting here yesterday, league directors seeking to find a successor to the late John Conway Tolle, found themselves deadlocked over whether Jack Hendricks, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, or William L. Dill, New Jersey Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, should succeed to the office. Each was given four of the eight votes, five being necessary to elect.

Eventually the league decided to adjourn and try once more during the minor league meeting at Chattanooga, Tenn., December 5, 6 and 7. In the meantime the league's affairs will be looked after by Charles H. Knapp, Chairman of the Board.

DIETICIAN ADDS WORDS OF PRAISE

"Since taking Kavatore I feel as though I were twenty years younger," Jackson man says.

Mr. Rechten's experience with Kavatore is of unusual interest due to the fact that he is a retired dietician, in which capacity he naturally spent years of thought and study on the subject of foods and their effect on the human system. "I have been troubled for years by indigestion, kidney trouble and neuritis," said Mr. Rechten, who resides on R. F. D. No. 9 near Jackson.

"I had hardly no appetite and when I did eat anything it seemed as though it soured and fermented in my stomach and came up in my throat like vinegar. Gas bloated me and caused intense pain. Then I had a constantly dull ache across the small of my back and sharp pains shot across my kidneys every time I stooped over. I was also troubled by pains right across my shoulders that caused me much agony. Of course this condition of my system made me very nervous and restless. I used everything and anything that my friends told me about—but nothing gave me any noticeable relief until I started to use Kavatore. I have used six bottles now and I feel as though I were 20 years younger. I eat and sleep like a new man. The pains across my back and shoulders have disappeared and I hope this statement is the means of Kavatore helping other folks as it did me."

The Kavatore man is at the FORD HOPKINS DRUG CO., where he is daily meeting the public and personally explaining the merits of this great preparation. The famous Kavatore figure (an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body) is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to see and study this figure, an experience which will be interesting and instructive.

FRANCIS B. TOWNSEND

Francis Benjamin Townsend, second son of Faustina (Hausen) Townsend and Truman B. Townsend, was born two and one-half miles south-east of Franklin Grove, November 20, 1856 and departed life on November 16, 1929 at his home in What Cheer, Iowa at the age of almost 73 years.

Mr. Townsend spent his early boyhood and youth at Franklin Grove. After leaving his boyhood home he was employed as a salesman and traveled in the state of Iowa for 30 years. He was united in marriage in 1901 to Mary Dodges Dean at Amboy.

Mr. Townsend leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, one daughter Mrs. Eugene Cahill of Dixon one step-daughter Mrs. Ralph Stubbs of Aurora, a sister, Mrs. William Cossey of Dixon, and one brother Loren Townsend who made his home with him.

This kind loving husband, father and brother will live in the hearts of those who knew him when he was lively and active. His later years were overshadowed by a lingering illness. He so loved that this verse is a tribute to him:

So live that when the summons comes to join that innumerable caravan,

Which moves to that mysterious realm where each shall take his chamber in the silent hall of death.

Thou no not like a quarry slave, but sustained and soothed by an un-faltering trust.

Approach thy grave like one who wraps the draperies of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Large Pool Is Planned To Sell Nation's Wool

San Angelo, Tex.—(AP)—The National Wool Growers' association, meeting in San Angelo November 20 and 21, plans to sponsor a nationwide pool to gather and sell the country's entire wool output.

Such a pool, which would dispose of 300 million pounds of wool grown in the United States, has been proposed as the most effective means of preventing a recurrence of recent low prices. Sheep men say this plan is the largest ever undertaken by the organization.

Owners of wool and mohair warehouses are to be asked to join the proposed pool. Texas mohair growers already have organized to market the mohair of the state.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 18.—(UP)—

The large flat roof of the Bon Marche department store was the only landing place Bob Wark saw when the motor of the airplane in which he was piloting two passengers "froze" yesterday.

He was compelled to "pancake" the plane to prevent it skidding off the building, but he and his passengers escaped unhurt from the wrecked craft.

The passengers, Ben Taylor, 17, and Feder Knopf, 15, of Port Angeles and the pilot were taken to the ground by firemen on ladders.

Believes Wrong Man Sentenced For Theft

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 18.—(AP)—William Ryan, investigator for the Bankers' Association of Indiana and Illinois, is seeking to determine whether William Roberts, a former South Dakota deputy sheriff, might have been mistakenly identified as a robber who held up the Marshallfield, Ind., State Bank last August. Roberts was convicted three weeks ago and sentenced to prison, protesting his innocence.

Ryan is investigating reports that the robbery might have been committed by William S. Ragan, Chicago factory official who has confessed another bank robbery and is suspected of several others. Ragan and Roberts bear a strong resemblance to each other.

Search For Head Of Shawneetown Concern

Shawneetown, Ill., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Search was underway throughout southern Illinois today for H. J. Meyer, president of the Bolo Products Co. here, who disappeared driving a truck of the company.

The company, located here through efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, recently sustained financial reverses which resulted in its closing.

Residents of the city attribute the company's closing to Meyer's disappearance. He was said to have owned 51 per cent of the firm's stock.

It further was said that after Meyer's left a deluge of demands by creditors were received.

Stribling Lost His First English Bout

London, Nov. 19—(AP)—William L. (Young) Stribling's first English ring appearance was ended in defeat. The Macon, Ga., heavyweight lost on a foul to Primo Carnera, huge Venetian carter, in the fourth round of their 15 round encounter at Royal Albert hall last night. Eight thousand fans, including the Prince of Wales, packed the famous hall and were rewarded with some spectacular milling.

Stribling amazed the crowd with his skillful work in the first two rounds when he evaded all of the giant Italian's wild swings and gave Carnera a bad beating about the body.

In the third round Stribling cracked the Italian on the jaw and Carnera went down for a count of six. Carnera got up in a wild fury and floored Stribling for a count of nine. The American was dazed but gamely got up and succeeded in holding his rival at bay for the rest of the round.

Early in the fourth round Stribling landed a right and left to Carnera's body. The referee ruled the blows were foul and Stribling was disqualified.

Carnera, weighing 283, had an advantage of 95 pounds and towered eight inches above his American rival.

GRIDIRON NEWS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—What awaits Purdue to win the Big Ten football championship if it loses to its most traditional rival, Indiana, is the question Coach Jimmy Phelan is asking his Boilermakers.

Confronted with the dangerous germ of over-confidence, which invariably comes with a title, Coach Phelan is using psychology, philosophy and hard work to preclude chances of an upset when his team invades Indiana for its final game Saturday.

"Unless you add Indiana to your list of victorious Saturdays," he told the Boilermakers, "not a Purdue man anywhere will recognize you as holders of the Big Ten championship. Neither will I. Indiana is in a better position to beat Purdue Saturday than it has in several seasons."

Most of the Boilermakers came out of the Iowa game battered but not enough to keep them out of the Indiana game. Alex Yunevich, the line smashing riveter, is nursing a charley horse but will be in the gray with his backfield mates, Harmon, Welch and White.

Meanwhile, Indiana was attempting to solve the baffling Purdue passing attack that has downed Michigan, Chicago, Wisconsin and Iowa. Coach Pat Page is giving his team, especially the ends, a minute drill on the Boilermakers attack. A sell-out is certain for the game and temporary bleachers may be erected at the west end of the field.

Northwestern began preparation for its big fight with Notre Dame Saturday by returning to fundamentals. It was poor tackling that enabled Indiana to upset the Wildcats in the last period Saturday and led Coach Dick Hanley to improve it for the Ramblers. The Wildcat backfield is expected to be intact for the game with the exception of Al Moore, left half, who was banged up in the Indiana game.

After a day's rest, Notre Dame regulars came through the Southern California game in good condition. So did Rookne, who plans to direct his team from a wheel chair again Saturday.

The University of Washington Huskies were due in Chicago today, five days ahead of their game with Amos Alonzo Stagg's Maroons. With a line averaging 197 pounds, the Huskies are expected to direct their attack against Chicago's slighter forward wall. Stagg is developing his famous flank pass formation and bolstering his line.

Encouraged by victories of Iowa and Michigan over Minnesota, Wisconsin labored overtime in preparation for its invasion of the Gophers Saturday. Coach Glen Thistlewaite has given his men new scoring plays during the past two weeks and the Badgers are getting loaded for the game.

Rain and slight injuries induced Iowa to stay away from practice last night while its next rival, Michigan, took matters easily.

Ohio State may start a new backfield against Illinois. In last night's practice, Coach Sam Willaman had Huston and Coffee at half, Benis at quarterback, and Taylor at fullback and the combination worked well in running and passing.

Jud Timm cheered Illinois by returning to practice after an absence of injuries, and may get the call at one of the halfback posts.

New York, Nov. 19—(AP)—Two of football's oldest rivalries will be renewed on Saturday when Yale meets Harvard in the Harvard Stadium and Lafayette clashes with Lehigh at Bethlehem, Pa.

For Harvard and Yale it will be the 48th meeting since 1875. Lafayette and Lehigh have played 62 games since 1884 with 1896 the only year since that time that these two natural rivals did not clash.

Most forecasts are victories for Yale and Lafayette. After an early upset by Georgia in the south, Yale has come along at a great pace, bowling over Brown, Dartmouth, Ar-

As Rockne's Ramblers Nosed Out Southern California, 13 to 12, in Sensational Game at Chicago

Before a $300,000 crowd, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame battled their way to victory over Southern California by the scant margin of 13 to 12 in one of the most spectacular football games of the season at Chicago. my and Princeton.

Harvard apparently has great potential strength, but has been a disappointment this season. After tying the Army, Harvard was crushed by Dartmouth and then took a 14-12 beating at the hands of Michigan. Yale will be out for revenge for the 17-9 reverse of last year. Of the 47 previous clashes, Yale has won 27; Harvard 14; with six ties.

Lafayette has not lost to Lehigh since 1918 and despite an unsuccessful season, looks strong enough to win by a touchdown or two. Lehigh started out strongly but injuries have weakened the squad to a great degree as witness the 14-0 defeat plastered on the Bethlehem squad by Rutgers last week. Lafayette has won 37 of the 62 previous battles, and Lehigh 23. There have been two ties.

Two other old rivalries will find New York University opposing Rutgers at the Yankee Stadium and Rochester playing Hobart at Rochester.

Drake, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference, will clash with the strong Temple outfit. Army meets Ohio Wesleyan, beaten only once this year. Undeclared Duquesne eleven takes on the Haskell Indians, beaten only by Loyola of Louisiana.

Unknown Will Get Scrap With Mandell

Milwaukee, Nov. 19—(UP)—An "unknown" in the boxing world was preparing today to take a big step forward in public acclaim. He is Joe Azzarella of Milwaukee who will fight Sammy Mandell, Champion lightweight.

Azzarella, curly-headed ruler of the lightweight ranks in Milwaukee, will be in the position of having all to win and little to lose.

The champion, although protecting his title by signing the Azzarella bout overweight, cannot afford to drop a bout to an untried fighter like Joe Sammy reached here yesterday and at once set up training quarters at the Eagles' Club.

He is fighting for Billy Mitchell at the Antlers' Club in an eight-round go and Billy is reported to have guaranteed $4000 and a percentage to the champion.

STARTING BLOCKS SUBJECT DEBATE AT A. A. U. MEET

Use Is Not Completely Approved By Delegates Today

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19—(AP)—George Simpson, the slim little speed king of Ohio State, started something when he leaped off the Nicholson starting blocks at Chicago one afternoon last June and dashed down the straightway for 100 yards in 9 2-5 seconds, thereby establishing himself as the "fastest human."

The chief result of Simpson's record feat has been to split the best minds of the Amateur Athletic Union and turn the annual convention here into a debating society, concentrating upon the pros and cons of the starting blocks.

The argument hasn't been settled by the A. A. U.'s endorsement of the foot blocks "in principle," while barring their use at any A. A. U. meet until such time as they receive the qualified sanction of the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Coalition Wins.

As a matter of fact it took a coalition of delegates, led by middle western advocates of the blocks, to overcome the opposition of the "die hards" and force at least a favorable resolution with regard to the starting devices. The "pro-block" forces came here fully equipped to force the issue. They had the inventors of two devices, John Nicholson of Notre Dame and George Brenahan of Iowa State. They produced the results of an exhaustive questionnaire, showing 175 out of 180 track coaches and officials on record in favor of the use of the blocks.

The debate revolves principally around the question of what, if any advantage the blocks give the sprinter in recording faster time than formerly was possible with the use of the old-fashioned holes, dug in the cinders. The records committee, in accepting Simpson's mark for listing in a special category "with blocks," virtually ruled that the mechanical device was of assistance. As chairman of the record committee, Lawson Robertson, Pennsylvania, and Olympic head coach and himself an authority of sprinting declared the blocks were "distinct advantage" but added this advantage might not show on the watch. In his opinion, the blocks enable the sprinter to get away with a longer stride.

Called Improvement.

Advocates of the blocks, on the other hand, contend they are merely a practical improvement, designed to standardize starting, speed up meets and do away with the track hazards due to digging holes. The questionnaire showed 115 out of 180 experts holding the blocks to be no advantage in making faster time.

The A. A. U. expected to wind up its convention today by re-electing Avery Brundage of Chicago as President and settling the 1930 championship awards. These involved at least two disputes, one between Boston and New York for the National Marathon championship and the other between Boston and St. Louis for the National Boxing tournament.

Harmon Asked For His Resignation

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today that Patrick T. (Paddy) Harmon had been asked to resign the presidency of the Chicago Stadium Corporation, which owns the $5,000,000 sports and exhibition arena.

The request was made by the executive committee, the newspaper said, with the explanation that "a change of presidents will be beneficial to the stockholders."

The committee made it clear, according to the published account, that it had no personal ill feeling toward Harmon, nor criticism of his management of the various sporting events. The executive committee is composed largely of directors, who must take whatever steps are to be made.

Harmon would not discuss the matter.

The directorate includes Vincent Benedix, John J. Mitchell, Jr., Sheldon Clark, Clement Studebaker, Jr., Arthur W. Cutten and B. A. Masse.

NATION JOINS PRESIDENT IN MOURNING HIM

Place tomorrow at the White House and that the body would then be placed on board a train, accompanied by a military escort, and conveyed to the Iowa city.

Mr. Good was stricken a week ago tonight. He called his fellow Cabinet officer, Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur of the Interior Department, an eminent physician, and Lieutenant Commander Boel T. Boone, President Hoover's personal physician, to his assistance, and they took him at once to Walter Reed Hospital.

Unforeseen Difficulties.
The operation was performed the next morning by Colonel William I. Keller, a famed Army Surgeon. Unforeseen difficulties were encountered. The appendix was in a much lower position than is normal and on the left side of the pelvis. Extension was extremely difficult. The patient was under anaesthetics for nearly an hour.

Then began the struggle which ended last night in defeat. A general anesthetic was administered, which in spite of the efforts of physicians and the patient's vitality, spread steadily.

With Secretary Good's death the responsibilities of the War Department devolved upon Patrick J. Hurley of Tulsa, Oklahoma, the Assistant Secretary, a War veteran who is entitled to wear the Distinguished Service Medal. Hurley stood high upon the list of those advanced as Mr. Good's probable permanent successor.

Senate Adjourned.
Word of the Cabinet officer's death spread rapidly through the city. The Senate in night session, was informed by Senator Deneen of Illinois, and adjourned at once. Members of the Cabinet, heads of diplomatic missions and Congressional leaders were quick to express publicly their sorrow at his passing and the esteem in which they held him.

"The nation has lost a faithful and far-seeing statesman," said Vice President Curtis. Secretary Wilbur praised Mr. Good as "one of those rare men who combined public service with a high sense of public duty." Secretary Stimson said he was "one of the outstanding citizens of our country." and Postmaster General Brown mourned his death as the loss of a "brave, gentle and loyal comrade," whose "practical devotion to the public service was an inspiration to his associates."

Elected To Congress
Secretary Good first came into national prominence in 1909 as a member of the House of Representatives in which he served for twelve years, rising to the high position of chairman of the powerful Appropriations committee.

He retired from Congress in 1921 to return to legal practice in Chicago but emerged from private life when he Hoover presidential campaign began to boom last year.

In the days preceding the Kansas City convention, he served as Western Manager for Mr. Hoover and after his nomination was given the important task of swinging the mid-

I was very nervous and rundown in general. I knew there was something radically wrong, but the problem was to find something to reach the situation."

"I decided to give Konjola a chance, and just as I was told it would do, this new medicine toned up my stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels. Poisons were swept from my system, and the first thing I realized was that the rheumatic pains were becoming less severe. My complexion cleared up and I was feeling better than in years. dle western farmers to the Republican standard.

His appointment as Secretary of War came as recognition of the part he played in Mr. Hoover's campaign.

His familiarity with the Mississippi valley, too, stood him in good stead, since to his Department was given charge over the Inland Waterway System, the development of which is an important project of the Hoover administration.

He was married in 1894 to Miss Lucy Deacon of Cedar Rapids. They had two sons, James W. Good, Jr., and Robert Edmund, both of whom were waiting in a nearby room when their father died, the first important figure of the Hoover administration to be claimed by death.

EMERSON'S TRIBUTE
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 19.—(UP)—"The death of Secretary Good, a close personal friend of President Hoover, is a great loss to Illinois and the nation," said Governor L. L. Emmerson, commenting on the death last night of Secretary of War Good at Washington.

"We looked upon him almost as an Illinois man because during his years in Congress from Iowa, he became acquainted with so many persons from this state. He was active in the Lowden campaign of 1920 and was western manager for President Hoover in the last campaign. I admired him for his greatness."

Secretary Good played an active part in the Hoover campaign in Illinois, with offices in Chicago. As western manager he delivered a number of speeches and was among those to urge united support for the Republican ticket when Governor Emmerson launched his election campaign at Mt. Vernon.

Mr. Good and former Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby, Elkhart, were closely associated in campaign work in behalf of Mr. Hoover.

"Mr. Good outstandingly combined statesmanlike qualities with practical politics," Mr. Oglesby said. "He was a diplomat and a host in himself in the campaign for the election of President Hoover. His death is a great loss to the nation."

Secretary of State William J. Stratton had known Good prior to the last campaign and praised his work as an organizer and a leader.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 18.—(UP)—The theory that Chicago gangsters shot an unidentified man to death and threw his body out of a car near the American Bridge Company's plant in Gary, was held by police as they investigated the killing today.

The body was found last night. The man had been shot to death, and evidence left at the scene indicated that robbery might have been the motive. A watchman testified, however, that he had seen an automobile leave the place shortly before the body was found, indicating that it may have been "planted."

"Married Life" Not Worth While

Blames Wives' "Nerves"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Try the effect of Tanlac after meals and before going to bed, and it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

OCEANS OF PAINT

Quebec — After three years of painting, it has been figured out that it took 7800 gallons of paint to cover the 219 acres of steel surface in the recently completed bridge across the St. Lawrence river. Thirty-five men with spray guns completed the job, working on girders 300 feet above the water surface. The bridge is painted green.

London—An ancient city, believed to be Gedi, a Persian city at least 600 years old, has been found only 50 miles from modern Mombasa in

ILLINOIS CORN IMPROVED LAST MONTH GREATLY

State's Yield Is Nearly Up To Average, Official Says

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Corn in Illinois improved last month, bringing the state's yield nearly up to the average, A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician of the state and federal departments of agriculture said in his November 1 crop report. It was as follows:

"Illinois corn yield and quality improved during October bringing the state yield nearly up to the average, merchantable portion of crop above average and reserves of old corn on farms are smaller than usual according to the November 1st returns from crop correspondents. This state wide survey also shows the largest crop of soybeans on record for this season. The next largest crop was that of last year. Illinois stands out as the leading state in soybean production."

"Late field crops were benefited, especially in quality by favorable fall weather conditions and have turned out somewhat better than earlier indications. With spotted exceptions, killing frosts held off until after the third week of October. Field crop improvement has been most marked in the southern half of the state where maturity of a larger than usual proportion of late planted crops was dependent upon favorable fall conditions. Pears, timothy seed, white and sweet potato yields are somewhat better than the average. Red clover seed production is considerably larger than usual. Sorghum for syrup and cowpea yields are slightly below average. Apples are a short crop of varying quality. The supply of farm labor is reported rather scarce in some localities but for the state the supply continues in excess of demand. Wages paid to farm labor are about the same as a year ago. With some exceptions, chiefly in the east, central and lower east central areas, where plowing was severely handicapped through late summer and early fall by dry weather, the progress of farm work is nearly as far along as usual."

"Livestock condition reports continue mostly favorable, the exceptions being largely represented by scattered losses from hog cholera. Roughage feed supplies are large generally and grain feed supplies are ample as a rule. Reports covering feeding operations indicate smaller supplies of cattle and slightly increased supplies of sheep and lambs on feed than a year ago."

"The average yield of Illinois corn is placed at 34.5 bushels compared with 38.4 bushels last season and the previous ten year average of 35.3 bushels per acre. State production 310,362,000 bushels against 367,888,000 last season and the previous five year average of 320,656,000 bushels. 83 per cent of the state corn crop is reported of merchantable quality compared with 88 per cent a year ago and the ten year average of 81 per cent. Reserves of old corn on Illinois farms placed at 3 per cent of the 1928 crop of 11,025,000 bushels compared with 2,975,000 last year and the previous five year average of 16,449,000 bushels. The yield per acre of corn cut for silage is 7 tons compared with the ten year average of 7.9 tons per acre. Early October weather was very favorable for maturing and drying out corn. Husking getting under way by October 15th. About 12 per cent of the state corn crop had been husked up to November 1st. Only fair progress reported for husking during the first two weeks in November. U. S. corn crop placed at 2,621,451,000 bushels compared with 2,356,678,000 a year ago and previous five year average of 2,748,740,000 bushels. U. S. corn quality at 80.2 per cent is nearly average and compares with 82.9 per cent last year. U. S. farm reserves at 76,863,000 bushels compare with 53,753,000 bushels last year and the five year average of 108,192,000 bushels of old corn on farms."

"Illinois soybean yield is reported at 17 bushels compared with 16.3 bushels last year and the ten year average of 12.5 bushels. State production forecast at 3,966,100 bushels compared with 3,069,000 bushels a year ago and the previous five year average of 1,648,000 bushels. U. S. soybean production 9,460,000 bushels against 8,688,000 bushels last year."

"Illinois red clover seed yield 14 bushels per acre against 1.1 bushels a year ago. Timothy seed yield 4.3 bushels against 3.5 bushels per acre last season. Timothy seed acreage is only slightly larger than a year ago but the acreage of red clover is about double that of last season. U. S. red clover seed crop is about double and timothy seed crop only slightly larger than reported for 1928."

"State production of cowpeas about 282,000 bushels compared with 258,000 last season. United States cowpea production 4,781,000 bushels compared with 3,729,000 a year ago and the past five year average of 4,360,000 bushels."

"Illinois production of other crops with last year's product given in parenthesis follows: Buckwheat 80,000 bushels (70,000); Sorghum syrup 657,000 gals. (648,000); Cotton 1360

A Giant From Nebraska Stalks

There's enough corn for a big family dinner on this one immense ear grown in Nebraska and exhibited in Washington by Congressman Edgar Howard. It's the biggest ear ever grown in Nebraska—certainly a congressional record—and he challenges all other states to beat it.

SEED TREATMENT BY X-RAY HAD GOOD TENDENCY

Increases Yield And Insures A Quicker
Growth

Vincennes, Ind.—Treatment of seeds by x-ray increases the yield, insures quicker growth, and stronger resistance to unfavorable weather, according to Dr. J. M. McCoy, Vincennes x-ray expert.

These conclusions were reached by Dr. McCoy after a series of experiments in cooperation with Arthur Goss, Purdue University. For nearly two years Dr. McCoy and Goss worked on the Purdue experimental farm, using the x-ray on potatoes, corn, tulips and dahlias bulbs.

It was found during the experiments that treated seeds showed more advantageously in poor soil than fertile soil. Treated corn planted on a hill at the farm served to illustrate the point. The corn planted near the top of the hill, where the soil was least fertile, showed a 59 per cent gain in yield over the year before. Half way down the hill, on much better ground, the yield was only 11 per cent above normal. At the bottom, the most fertile part, the yield was only 1 per cent above normal.

The farmer with the poorest soil and most adverse weather condition would be most benefited by x-ray treatment of seeds, Dr. McCoy believes.

Survey Shows Large Cows Are Economical

The small, refined dairy cow may look best, but the big, roomy cow pays most profit to her owner, according to a survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. In making the study large and small cows within one breed were compared, both purebreds and grades of every age being included.

On an average the largest cows—those weighing 1,500 pounds—exceeded the smallest cows—those weighing 800 pounds—by 98 pounds of butterfat per cow. Their cost of feed was $20 higher, but they returned $43 more per cow in yearly income over cost of feed.

An analysis of figures obtained in the survey shows that as size of cow advanced 100 pounds for each group, there was a fairly uniform gain in production of milk and of butterfat in cost of feed per cow, and in income above feed cost. On the other hand, there was a slight decrease in the butterfat test, but this was not enough to merit special attention.

Though the group figures always favored the larger cows, it was found that many individuals among the large cows in each breed were unprofitable producers and that many small cows in each breed were profitable producers. Therefore in selecting dairy cows of any breed it is not wise to select on the basis of size alone. Size, however, is a factor of great importance."

HOLSTEIN HERDS SHARE LEAD FOR LEE CO. HONORS

Guernseys Also Are Con-
tenders For October
Producing Mark

With two of their ten pure bred

Holstein cows dry, Curtis Plum & Son led the Lee-Bureau Herd Improvement Association having an average production of 862 pounds milk and 33.3 pounds fat. Although the cows are of good breeding, good feed and care throughout the year were largely responsible for this average. They have had good legume pasture all summer and at present time receive silage in addition to ground oats, ground barley and commercial feed. Regular milking and feeding is done twice each day. The daily milk sheet shows what each cow is producing and how much feed she needs. Two of these cows have been milking several months and aren't yet 2 years old.

Ben Albrecht & Son also had 2 of their 10 pure bred Guernsey cows dry. Good feed and care during the year enabled them to produce an average of 567 pounds of milk and 32.4 pounds fat. They had good legume hay, ground oats, ground barley and a commercial feed. Regular feeding and milking are done here also.

Forest King's 13 grade Holsteins took third place by producing 998 pounds of milk and 31.3 pounds butter fat. They received ground oats, ground barley and silage, besides legume pasture.

J. E. Monier's mixed herd of 11 cows were next, having 733 pounds milk and 30.2 pounds butter fat as an average. They received silage, ground oats and cotton seed meal and were milked twice daily at regular hours.

B. D. Albrecht's herd of 13 cows of various breeds was fifth with a 733 pounds milk and 29.6 pounds butter fat average to their credit. One cow was dry. They were milked twice daily by a milking machine.

Five High Cows and Purebreds:

Four Beat 60 Pounds Butter Fat

A four year old purebred Guernsey belonging to Ben Albrecht & Son produced 1100 pounds milk and 69.3 pounds butter fat in 28 days, leading all others in the association. Having had a medium length dry period and good feed, she freshened in good condition and has been fed ground oats, ground barley, a commercial feed, silage and alfalfa hay.

Three pounds behind her was a 4 year old pure bred Holstein belonging to Curtis Plum & Son. She freshened in September after a 5 weeks dry period and produced 1411 pounds milk and 66.3 pounds butter fat in October from a ration of ground oats, ground barley, commercial feed and silage.

J. L. Pomeroy and Son own the 6 year old pure bred Holstein which was third with 1618 pounds of milk and 61.5 pounds of fat to her credit. She freshened in September and has been fed ground oats, corn and a commercial feed.

Close behind came A. D. Albrecht's 6 year old purebred Holstein which produced 1755 pounds milk and 61.4 pounds butter fat. She freshened October 3 and after a dry period in which good feed was fed she was in good condition. She received ground oats, corn, linseed oil meal, cotton seed meal and silage.

Wayne Slutz's 6 year old purebred Jersey produced 905 pounds of milk and 58.3 pounds butter fat. She freshened in September, had milk fever and still came through in fifth place. Mr. Slutz had thought her an unprofitable cow. The Dairy Herd Improvement Association saved her from the butcher.

Association Average Increased

The 334 cows, including 66 dry ones, increased slightly over last month's production an average of 813 pounds milk and 23 pounds butter fat. The selling of 15 cows was an important factor as well as the valiant effort of the 31 fresh cows.

Fifteen members owned the 33 cows which hexceeded 40 pounds of fat.

Succulent roughage and regularity of milking are beginning to show up in the good and persistent production of some herds.

Tractors Exempt If Used On Farm Only

Springfield, Ill., U. S.—Tractors, when used by farmers exclusively for agricultural pursuits are exempt from motor license fees, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom advised Alexander J. Siron, state's attorney of Boone county today.

But the opinion read, if a farmer uses his tractor for other purposes other than in pursuit of his own agricultural affairs and uses the highways to travel on to other farms in accomplishing such transactions, he must procure a license.

The Farm Week in Washington

BY FRANK I. WELLER

Farm Editor

(Associated Press Feature Service)
Washington.—(AP)—In hiring W. A. Schoenfeld, one of the best field men in the bureau of agricultural economics, the farm board has indicated a second time the probable scope of its future research in factors affecting market and price.

The first came when the board, by order of the President, took over bodily the bureau's division of co-operative marketing.

There is no suggestion that the board intends to absorb the whole bureau or any other part of it, but the law provides that the President may turn over to it any governmental agency it needs.

Schoenfeld is a former assistant chief of the bureau. He has been chairman of the Federal crop reporting board and was in charge of research work when the bureau laid plans to interpret price trends.

By reason of senatorial opposition, the bureau no longer forecasts the price trend of cotton, but it does predict trends in other farm commodities. The service constantly is becoming of more importance to the board. It makes continuous use, too, of the crop reporting board. As it expands it may find that these two branches, and others of the bureau, could be operated with greater facility if attached to the board.

Various research, service and regulatory activities of the bureau in the Pacific northwest have been coordinated under Schoenfeld's direction. While he is to represent the farm board, his services still are to be available to the bureau, particularly in connection with economic and marketing research work of special interest to the board.

AUBURN WOMAN HAS HEN WHICH LAID 311 EGGS

Figures Of Contests Conducted In Illinois Given

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—A barred Plymouth Rock hen, owned by Mrs. Charles Coultas, of Auburn, laid 311 eggs in the 1928-1929 state egg-laying contest, and as individual layer of the American, Asiatic and English breeds. This hen is the first of her breed, and first in any class other than the leghorns, to exceed 300 eggs since the state contests began. The only other hen in the three poultry projects that the department of agriculture conducts that passed the 300 mark was a White Leghorn, owned by the Coombs Poultry Farms of Sedgwick, Kansas. It laid 312, and wins the grand championship for the year. This Kansas bird established a new high record in continuous performance, producing an egg each day for 165 days—March 27 to September 7. The grand champion hen of the preceding year laid 292 eggs.

The increase average production of the many hens on test is reflected in the list of 206-egg producers. There were 203 with yields of 200 eggs and better this year—about twice as many as made that grade last year. Of these, 90 were on test at Quincy, 76 at Murphysboro, and 37 at Kan-kakee.

Illinois-owned pens and individuals that made commendable showings in the 1928-29 contest, and their records in addition to the Auburn winner, follow:

In the Mediterranean class—a pen of five White Leghorns, owned by Harry Wisdom, of Beardstown, laid 1218 and another owned by Harry Wisdom of Beardstown, laid 1218 and another of that breed, owned by Clyde Smith, of Golden Gate, produced 1190 during the year. These pens placed fourth and fifth in the Mediterranean pen competition.

One White Leghorn, owned by D. T. Farrow, of Peoria, placed second to the champion from Kansas, with a yield of 291 eggs during the year.

H. P. Hunter, of Macomb, placed a pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks in fifth position with an output of 1,098 eggs from the five during the year. One of his hens placed fourth in the competition between individual layers of the heavy breeds.

By comparison, the hens that placed in the five high positions as individuals, this year—all breeds competing, averaged 298 eggs during the year. In the preceding contest the average for the hens in this

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

More Twin Lambs If Ewes Well Fed

Not only has science been able to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before, but it is now able to induce ewes to drop a larger number of twin lambs. Extra feed at the breeding season is the treatment that produces the additional lambs.

This statement comes from the United States Department of Agriculture, whose sheep specialists have been at work on the problem for the past 12 years. The results of their work show that liberal feeding just before and during the breeding season, commonly known as "flushing" has given a larger number of twins.

While the percentage of increase has varied from year to year, the average has been 16 more lambs per 100 ewes for the flushed ewes than for let's which did not receive this extra feed.

A study has been made of the comparative value of the supplementary grain ration and of extra-quality pasture for furnishing this extra feed. Very little difference was found in the lambing percentages of ewes flushed by these two methods. However, it is usually cheaper to supply the additional feed in the form of extra-quality pasture.

"The pasture should be sufficiently luxuriant to cause the ewes to gain rapidly. Seasons sometimes occur, however, in which pastures are too short for this purpose. In such seasons it is advisable for farmers to give the flock a supplementary grain allowance of from one-half to 1½ pounds per head daily, the amount depending upon the size of the sheep and the amount and quality of the green feed available."

"A mixed grain ration consisting of equal parts by weights of corn and oats has been found a satisfactory ration for this purpose. Forage crops, such as soybeans, cowpeas, sweet clover, and alfalfa, in sections where they can safely be used for pasture makes satisfactory pasture crops on which to flush ewes. Bluegrass pasture is also excellent. Although ewes gain readily on young, tender clover, much difficulty has been experienced in getting them to breed while on this type of pasture."

Broods Over Mother's Death: Tries Suicide

Gary, Ind., Nov. 18—(UP)—Raymond Hoskins, 28, was in the Methodist hospital here today suffering from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. Hoskins shot himself at 6:30 o'clock last night at the home occupied by himself and his brother Furman.

It was believed, he had become temporarily deranged from brooding over the death of his mother which occurred here while he was in Europe as a sailor.

Physicians said he wound was serious but that he might recover.

It's time to CHANGE to winter grades

WINTER is near.

Is your car ready? Three steps are necessary to put your car in shape to meet the heavy demands of cold weather driving.

- 1—Change the lubricant in the differential and transmission, using Polarine Transmission Oil (Winter) or Iso-Vis Lubricant (B).
- 2—Have the chassis thoroughly greased.
- 3—Flush the crankcase with Polarine Flushing Oil and refill with winter grade of either Iso-Vis or Polarine recommended for your car.

These three steps are vital to the good conduct and smooth operation of your car this winter.

Iso-Vis and Polarine meet every winter need. They maintain their viscosity and lubricate thoroughly at any operating temperature. They're highly refined and scientifically correct for all motors.

If you use Polarine—drain the crankcase every 500 miles for maximum efficiency and economy. If you use Iso-Vis, the constant viscosity oil—you can drive a thousand miles or more without changing, for Iso-Vis wears and wears and wears.

WHEN YOU MEET AN OLDSMOBILE OWNER YOU MEET A FRIEND OF OLDSMOBILE

THE high regard Oldsmobile owners have for their cars is significant of the deep and enduring satisfaction this fine car of low price gives in daily use. In the past few weeks alone, hundreds of owners have written to Olds Motor Works, voluntarily expressing their enthusiastic praise of Oldsmobile.

Talk with owners. Find out how their enthusiasm continues to grow, month after month, as Oldsmobile demonstrates its ability and reliability under all conditions.

Then come and drive the car yourself. Learn through personal experience not only what this Oldsmobile can do, but how it does it.

Drive it through traffic.

Fingertip steering and a short turning radius make parking easy, even in small spaces. Try it on the open highway. Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower high-compression engine provides swift, sure acceleration—speed for any emergency—power for any need.

After you drive Oldsmobile and compare it with other cars, you will appreciate its outstanding value. And after you listen to owner after owner, you will realize that whenever you meet an Oldsmobile owner, you meet a friend of Oldsmobile.

Slip a Date Not at Grinnell!

Faculty members of Grinnell College (Iowa) say this high fence erected recently around the Women's Quadrangle was built for protection against "peeping toms" and robbers, but the co-eds have a different idea about it. They claim it was erected to prevent their slipping out without permission for night dates. Anyway, the fence is there—and it serves both purposes.

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, miser, said to keep money in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, is strangled to death. BONNIE DUNDEE, "rob" detective, assisting

LIEUT. STRAWN, attaches significance to the utterance "Bad Penny" made by CAPT. Mrs. Rhodes' parrot, when he finds to the victim's diary reference to a mysterious "D" at whom she lives in dread. Suspicion falls on EMIL SEVIER, former boarder whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her and who has left town hurriedly on the one o'clock train.

Boarders quizzed are HENRY DOWDY, CORA BARKER, theatricalist once named as an heir to the victim's board; NORMA PAIGE, latest boarder who incurred the old woman's wrath by becoming engaged to WALTER STYLES, once an heir, and engaged because of Mrs. Hogarth's accusations against him to his fiancée, BERT MAGNUS, amateur scenario writer, and DAISY SHEPHERD.

Dundee learns from Mrs. Rhodes of the mysterious manner in which the victim received and sent mail, making the postman her only confidant. When pellets of snuff, obnoxious from Mrs. Hogarth's diary, are found in the drainpipe of Cor

WORLD'S BIGGEST SUBMARINE WAS LAUNCHED MONDAY

French U-Boat Able To Cruise Long Way On One Fueling

Cherbourg, France, Nov. 18.—(UP)—The world's greatest undersea craft, the French submarine cruiser Surcouf, was launched here yesterday.

Surpassing by 1,000 tons the finest submarines that America and Great Britain ever have conceived, the Surcouf represents the type of craft which France has declared it must retain as an arm of defense.

The new craft can cruise halfway around the world without refueling, can carry a seaplane, is provided with broadside as well as bow and stern torpedo tubes and has an armored deck to protect against shells and air bombs.

The submarine was launched in the presence of Vice-Admiral Basire, Maritime Prefect of Cherbourg, and a number of naval attaches of other sea powers.

The Surcouf, 4,304 tons when submerged, represents three years work and is one more reason why France is certain, at the London five-power naval conference, to oppose the abolition of submarines on modern warfare. France intends the new craft as a test ship.

The greatest interest among spectators centered in the conical aerodrome which fits into the superstructure. In it is packed away a seaplane with folding wings. The plane can be taken out, fitted for flight and slid overboard in five minutes, or tucked away in eight.

The Surcouf is listed as a defense submarine for use along the shipping lanes to the French colonial empire, but she is likely to find her way into the Mediterranean where she will dominate any submarines Britain, Italy or Spain possess.

The new craft is 400 feet long, 50 feet longer than the largest American and British submarines, and double the lengths of the greatest war-time German U-Boats. From upper works to keel, the Surcouf is 421.2 feet. Diesel engines will drive her 19 knots on the surface and 12 knots under water and with extra large fuel tanks she is capable of a cruising distance of 13,000 miles.

"We're through the cloud," one Tiny cried. "That surely was a wondrous ride. For just about a minute it was dark as it could be. The cloud was real damp, goodness s knows. There still is moisture on my clothes, but I don't mind. It really was a dandy treat to me."

"Me, too," cried Clowdy. "But at first I sort of felt it was the worst trip we had ever taken. Then we came out in the light. As soon as I felt nice fresh air, it took away the sudden scare. Now I don't care what happens, just as long as we're all right."

And so they sailed on through the breeze. The sled just skimmed along with ease. A bird would pass them now and then and chirp to beat the band. Once Clowdy tried to grab a bird and Scouty said, "Say, that's absurd. You can't catch a thing like that with such a tiny hand."

"Well, anyway, don't try that trick 'cause it might not turn out so slick," said Scouty. "Just supposin' that you grabbed a big bird's feet. 'Twould lift you quickly from the sled. You'd better stay right here instead. I'm sure a trip to some bird's nest would not be such a treat."

Then, for a time, the bunch sat still. Then Carpy, in a voice quite shrill, cried, "Oh! Look back! I hear a cyclone's coming right this way." The whole bunch saw a dark cloud near. Of course it filled them all with fear. "Oh, my," sighed Scouty. "This is going to spoil a dandy day."

The wind then hit the sled keel-smack and almost threw it on its back. The Tines all spilled off but didn't fall down to the earth. Each little fellow used his head and grabbed real quickly to the sled. "Don't drop," cried Scouty. "Hang right on for all that you are worth."

Panhandle Expects New Wheat Record

Amarillo, Tex.—(AP)—The vast Panhandle of Texas, which raised 42,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, expects to beat its own record in 1930.

More than 2,500,000 acres, an increase of 42 per cent over last year's area, has been sown in wheat for next year's crop. Panhandle wheat covered 1,750,000 acres last year.

With normal conditions between this fall and next summer's harvest, it is predicted that Texas wheat easily will average more than 20 bushels an acre to hit a total production of 50,000,000 bushels. The Panhandle averaged 24 bushels an acre in this year's harvest.

One county, Ochiltree, is bidding for the nation's wheat championship next year with 330,000 acres already sown.

In six years the Panhandle has almost trebled its wheat acreage. There were 900,000 acres of it in 1924. Since that time Texas has averaged 14.5 bushels an acre, more than a bushel above the country's average.

Eventually, it is estimated, the Panhandle wheat area will be three times its present size.

Bankers Offer Aid To Coming Farmers

Shelbyville, Ill.—(UP)—Enrolling for a venture which in time may pave the way for them to become prosperous farmers, twenty boys have taken up the raising of baby beef calves are organizing various clubs to carry out the proposed projects, here.

Heretofore, interest has mostly been in the raising of dairy calves and pigs and little attention paid to beef calves.

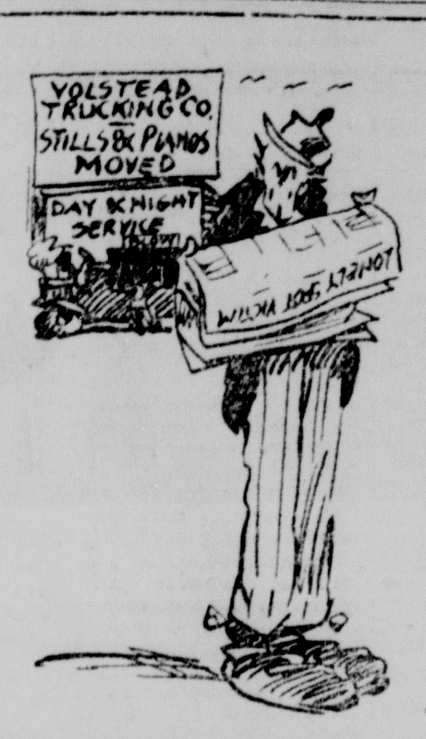

With twenty boys enrolled in the club, plans are under way to purchase twenty calves for them and it is hoped that with the interest that has been created by agricultural instructors, the farm advisor and men interested in beef production, that the venture will prove successful.

The question as to whether the calves will be purchased from the range or whether native animals will be used in the project has not been decided.

Various bankers here and in surrounding towns are encouraging the project and have offered to aid minor farmers.

Many of the youths are borrowing money from the banks to start their project.

Drainage Work Is Provided On Installment System

Lansing, Mich.—(UP)—Under the O'Connell-Goodwin act passed by the last session of the Michigan state legislature, farmers may buy drainage on deferred payments.

On proper petition the county drain commissioner is to establish drainage districts and issue bonds to pay the cost of draining lands in those areas.

The landowners must retire the bonds in three to 30 annual installments, the drain commissioner determining the number of installments before issuing the bonds.

Each installment bears interest at 6 percent.

Michigan is reported to be one of the first states to pass such a law. The act is expected to stimulate reclamation projects and improve the productivity of lands which have been too wet for profitable tillage.

Swine Raisers Will Meet In Springfield

Springfield, Ill.—(UP)—Swine raisers from all parts of the state will gather here December 7 for the seventh annual Hog Day Banquet which will be held in the Springfield high school auditorium.

No arrangements have been made

ABE MARTIN

The government'll advance $9,000,000 to California grape growers to move their crop East, an' then use another $9,000,000 tryin' to find out who's makin' wine, an' so it goes. "When it comes to an absolutely sure fire way o' makin' money it's purty hard to beat workin' fer it," said Joe Kite, today, as he glanced o'er the stock market.

thus far for a speaker for the meeting this year as the program is expected to be too lengthy, according to members of the arrangements committee. Sangamon county has produced a total of fifteen ton litters during the past year as compared with six last year.

Since the Hog Day Banquet is primarily for the benefit of farmers, local residents have been asked to allow the rural residents to obtain seats in the auditorium.

Hog calling contests and community singing will be among the features of the evening.
